Millbrae Welcomes Eikon Therapeutics: A New Chapter in Innovation and Community Growth

Exciting things are happening in Millbrae! The City is proud to welcome Eikon Therapeutics as the first major tenant of the new Alexandria Center for Life Science, a cutting-edge biotech campus taking shape right in our backyard.

Eikon Therapeutics, a fast-growing biotechnology company focused on advancing life-saving therapies, is bringing its global headquarters to Millbrae. Their new space spans over 285,000 square feet and will support hundreds of employees, many of whom will become part of our local community.

“We are pleased to bring Eikon’s unique amalgam of breakthrough biomedical research and advanced engineering to our new headquarters in Millbrae,” said Roger M. Perlmutter, M.D., Ph.D., Chief Executive Officer and Chairman of Eikon Therapeutics. “Our new facility is a tribute to the dedication of the entire Eikon team, and the strong support of many partners, including Alexandria Real Estate Equities, Truebeck Construction, and, of course, the City of Millbrae. My colleagues and I, working to advance important new medicines that improve and extend human life, look forward to becoming engaged members of the Millbrae community.”

This move is more than just a relocation it marks the beginning of a long-term partnership between Eikon and the City of Millbrae. The Alexandria Center project, located across from the Millbrae Transit Center, has been designed with sustainability, accessibility, and innovation in mind. The campus features a mix of lab and office spaces, a public plaza, a community-friendly café, and a fitness center for employees, blending high-tech development with neighborhood-friendly amenities.

“This project aligns with Millbrae’s long-term vision of fostering innovation while creating opportunities for local residents and businesses. With hundreds of new jobs expected and an influx of talent, the arrival of Eikon is a milestone for economic growth and community vitality.” Emphasized Millbrae City Manager Thomas C. Williams. “We are thrilled to welcome Eikon Therapeutics to Millbrae, and we look forward to seeing how this collaboration will bring new energy, opportunities, and innovation to our City for years to come.”

Millbrae Earns 2024 Tree City USA Recognition

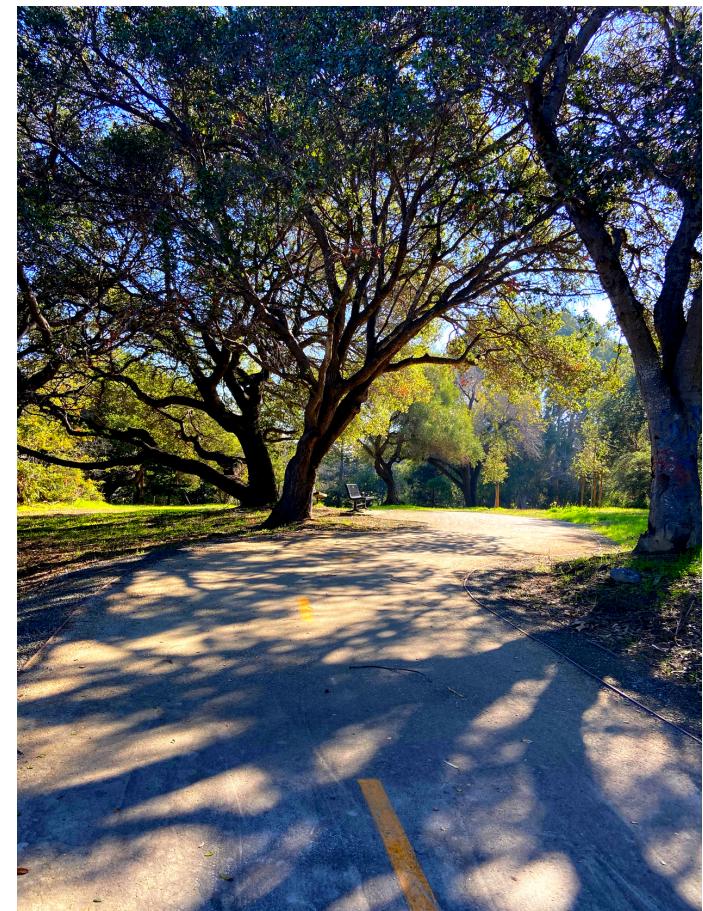

The City of Millbrae has once again been recognized as a Tree City USA by the Arbor Day Foundation for its continued commitment to urban forestry and environmental stewardship.

This national recognition celebrates Millbrae’s efforts to plant, nurture, and protect trees that enhance the quality of life for its residents. The Tree City USA program, now in its fifth decade, honors cities that meet four foundational standards: maintaining a tree board or department, enacting a community tree ordinance, spending at least $2 per capita on urban forestry, and hosting an annual Arbor Day celebration.

“We are proud to be part of a network of cities that understand the vital role trees play in building healthy, resilient, and beautiful communities,” said City Manager Tom Williams. “This recognition reflects Millbrae’s long-standing commitment to sustainability and the well-being of future generations.”

Trees provide a wide range of benefits in urban environments—from reducing stormwater runoff and improving air quality to lowering energy costs and supporting mental and physical health. With the support of community members and local leaders, Millbrae continues to invest in a greener, more livable city for all.
